

I feel that this is a rare instance where you Feds need to step in. The broadcasters are cautious about spitting out HDTV content because they don't want to see their stuff on DVD's with chinese fine print and the TV makers are cautious because they don't want to spend the money on technology that may or may not go away. You need to step in and command all TV makers to use HDCP via DVI. This seems to be the only possible technology to fill the needs of a "standard". It's far from perfect but you can put that in place and upgrade it later.1
